London, Sept. 14.—A report today from Antwerp states that strong bodies of Russian troops have been landed in Belgium and are to co-operate with the Belgians in tapping the German lines of communication.
Included in the newly arrived forces are cossacks and infantry numbering 200,000 men.

Paris, Sept. 14.—The German retreat continued uninterrupted today.
Every attempt of the German officers to rally the men against French pursuit has failed.

Official advices from the war office to General Gallieni show that at no point in France are the Germans now dangerous. They probably will try to make a stand in the north near St.
Quentin where early in the month they defeated the British. But it is doubtful whether they will ever be able to hold this position as the pursuing French armies now outnumber the Germans nearly two to one

HENRY STARKE IS FOUND DEAD TODAY

Lifeless Body Discovered in Bed at Home Southwest of the City—
Not Seen Since Saturday.

IS NOT KNOWN WHEN HE DIED

Henry Starke, age about seventy-five years, a prominent Rush county farmer, was found dead in bed at his home southwest of this city in the Webb neighborhood this afternoon by neighbors. He lived in the house all alone. Mr. Starke has not been seen since Saturday, when he was in Rushville, and it probably never will be known when he died. Neighbors became alarmed because he had not been seen all day and broke into the house. Whether or not he was subject to attacks of heart trouble could not be learned.

Mr. Starke has lived alone for a number of years, or ever since his wife died. He is widely known throughout the county. The coroner was called from Homer, but late today no verdict had been returned.
Funeral arrangements were not completed this afternoon. Mr. Starke is survived by a son, John Starke, living west of here and two daughters, Mrs. Ed Logan living a mile east of Richland and Mrs. Lifford Stiers of Newcastle, formerly of this city.

GERMANY HAS FAVORABLE NEWS

But For Strategic Reasons, War Office Says it Can Not be Announced Just Now.

COMPLETE ROUT IN PRUSSIA

German Crown Prince Captures Enemy's Fortified Position Southwest of Verdun.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, Sept. 14. (By wireless)—
The war office this afternoon declared reports from Paris and London of German defeats in France are founded on erroneous conceptions of the exact situation. It is stated that favorable news had been received from the French scene of action but that for strategic reasons it can not be made public now.

The retreat of the Russian army in east Prussia appears to be developing into a flight accompanied by evidences of demoralization. General Hindenberg reports the capture of 150 guns and about 30,000 prisoners.

The garrison of Antwerp which tried a sortie has been repulsed.
The army of the crown prince is now attacking Verdun and Toul from both sides.

The German crown prince captured the enemy's fortified position southwest Verdun and is now bombarding with heavy artillery the outer forts lying to the south.

A battle is going on between Paris and the River Marne on front of 125 Kilometers (75 miles) stretching from Nanteuil on the west where the English are to Vitry on the east.

The crown prince's army is separated from the main battle by the forest of Argonne. The army of the crown prince of Bavaria and General Von Follmering are in formal battle near the upper Moselle.

Ambassador Gerard gave out an interview to the press denying persistent reports that the United States was preparing to join the allies; that Mr. Whitlock had attached Mayor of Brussels to his legation; that American flag had been raised at Ghent and that Tuckerton incident was unfriendly discrimination against Germany; and that he is advising Americans to hurry away because United States to mix in war.

FUNERAL IS HELD TODAY

Mrs. Anna Turner Dies at Home of Daughter in Arlington.

The funeral services of Mrs. Anna Turner, who died Friday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kennedy, in Arlington, were conducted this morning in the East Con-nersville Baptist church. Mrs. Turner has made her home with her daughter for some time but formerly lived in East Connersville. She had been ill for some time suffering from Bright's disease. She was the widow of the late Oliver Turner and is survived by four daughters and two sons.

DANGER OF PARIS SIEGE IS PAST

Military Governor Today Notifies Minister of War Capital May be Moved Back at Any Time.

CORRESPONDENT AT FRONT

Germans Still Far From Being Completely Defeated—Retiring in Comparatively Good Order.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
(Copyright 1914 by United Press.)

Paris, Sept. 14.—Emphatically declaring that all danger of a siege is now past, General Callieni, military governor of Paris, today notified Minister of War Millerand that the capital can be returned here at any time. An official decree re-transferring it is looked for in the very near future.

Meanwhile General Gallieni is sending the majority of his army of the defense of Paris, 500,000 men to reinforce the French forces now fighting desperately to drive the Germans back across the eastern frontier. They are no longer needed here.

There is no doubt that the kaiser's offense is broken.

I have returned today from a complete inspection of the front in the neighborhood of Meaux-Chateau Thierry and Soissons, and from close inspection and scrutiny of the official reports France is furnishing the entire world one of its greatest surprises by the extent to which the individual brilliancy of her troops has triumphed over the German intensive organization.

By means of an auto placed at my disposal by the military authorities I was able to make a personal inspection of the battle front on the right and I can state that the French army organization is working everywhere with almost incredible smoothness. There is co-operation everywhere and the French are now taking advantage of the covering possibility of their artillery exceedingly well served, to push the enemy back.

When I reached Soissons, an artilery duel was in progress. The opposing batteries were well concealed behind the hills that nestle around the town. The French artillery was posted on the heights south of the town. The Germans were over a mile away, their guns masked in clumps of woodland. The German guns alternated a rain of concussion shells on the French artillery and shrapnel on the French infantry

JOHN B. MEACHAM GOES TO GEORGIA

Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church Resigns Sunday to Accept Call at Moultrie Ga.

WILL LEAVE IN TWO WEEKS

Accepts Pastorate of Church at Advance in Salary and Where he Will Have Assistant.

The Rev. John B. Meacham Sunday resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, his resignation to take effect Sunday September 27.
The following Sunday, October 4, he will assume the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church at Moultrie, Georgia, at an advance in salary.

At the congregational meeting of the church Sunday morning, after the Rev. Mr. Meacham had announced his resignation, a committee of three members was appointed by the congregation to employ a new preacher. Members of the committee are Ralph Payne, Mrs. John F.
Moses and Frank Reynolds.

At Moultrie the Rev. Mr. Meacham will have an assistant pastor under him. The church supports five mission churches and Sabbath schools and in addition gave more per member last year than any church in the Georgia Synod.

When his resignation takes effect, the Rev. Mr. Meacham will have been pastor of the church here four years to a day. He has been a popular minister of the Gospel and has hosts of friends in and out of the church who regret to see him leave.

In announcing his resignation, the Rev. Mr. Meacham spoke very briefly as follows:

"When I finished my work at Heidelberg I went over to Mt. Sterling, Ky., to spend the last Saturday, and, in the meantime, I had received a letter inviting me to come to Moultrie, Georgia, to preach in the First Presbyterian church there. I dislike competing with other men for the pulpit. I dislike the idea of hanging my goods before the congregation for inspection and for them to decide upon as to whether or not they would want such as I have"

I answered the letter in this way:
That I did not like to come in competition with my brethren for the pulpit, and if I did not have to compete for the pulpit, I might come; that it would be a pleasure to me if, from what they heard of me, they would extend the call and let me come and look over the field and if mutually pleased each other, then we might

ENROLLMENT IS ABOUT AVERAGE

Approximate Attendance in Rushville City Schools on Opening Day is 950.

GOOD INTEREST MANIFEST

High School This Year Offers More Elective Courses Than Ever Before.

The Rushville schools opened today with an approximate enrollment of nine hundred and fifty. The regular work started this afternoon at the usual hour. The attendance is just about the average.

Although most of the pupils had already purchased their books, the schools were dismissed about ten-thirty o'clock this morning to allow those who had not procured their books to do so. The schools were to be dismissed early this afternoon to allow the teachers to arrange the courses of study.

Graham school leads in attendance, because all of the high school is at this building, with an approximate enrollment of 368. Jackson school is next with 318 pupils. Havens school has an enrollment of 242.
There are 37 pupils in Washington school. The approximate attendance in high school is 175. A count was made in all of the rooms except the high school.

The high school this year is offering more elective courses than ever before in the history of Rushville.
Among the things that are practically new for the high school here are chemistry, domestic science, bookkeeping, public speaking, commercial arithmetic, advanced algebra and solid geometry.

The beginning Latin and German classes each have an enrollment of thirty-five. This is exceptionally large for them. There are forty members of the Freshman, which is about normal. Three years ago there were forty-eight in the Freshman class, but at that time all of the Glenwood high school students came here because the school building at Glenwood was not completed.

The nice weather made the school opening very auspicious. Superintendent J. H. Scholl said that the spirit among the pupils was fine and that everything indicated a splendid school year.

All of the township schools are now open. Most of them opened the school year last Monday and the remainder started today.

The enrollment at the Graham school was as follows: 1A and 1B, 41; 2B and 3B, 35; 7B, 35; 7A, 30; 8B, 27; 8A, 27, and high school, approximately 175. The Jackson school was as follows: 1B and 1A, 48; 1 A and 4A, 28; 2B and 2A,
48; 3B and 3A, 46; 4B and 4A, 44;
5B and 5A, 35; 6B, 43, and 6A, 26.
The Havens school enrollment follows: 1B, 51; 1A, 24; 2B and 2A, 48; 3B and 3A, 42; 4A and 4B, 43, and 5B and 5A, 35. In Washington school there are 18 pupils in No. 1, and 19 in No. 2.

Superintendent Scholl says that a number of pupils from out of the city came in for the last year of the high school this year. There are two from New Salem, two from Arlington, one from Walker township, two from Jackson township. Miss Marie Newhouse, a graduate of last year's class, will take post-graduate work this year.

One thing noted this year is that many pupils are dropping out of school. It is believed that the interest in school will be stimulated more and more each year as vocational education is developed.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT OPENS IN COURT

First Evidence Taken in Case of Anna B. Harris of Indianapolis Against Carthage Man.

OUTGROWTH OF AUTO MISHAP

Little Girl Run Down by Floyd Miller in Indianapolis in 1913 as She Got Off Street Car.

The first jury trial of the present term of court started this morning when the damage suit of Anna M.
Harris, by her next friend, Ida B.
Harris, against Floyd Miller, was called. The plaintiff is a resident of Indianapolis and the defendant is a well known citizen of Carthage. The plaintiff demands $10,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been received when she was run over by Miller's automobile in Indianapolis.

The accident occurred in June, 1913, at the corner of Illinois and Washington street, Indianapolis.
Anna Harris, according to the complaint, stepped from a car at this corner and was struck by the auto driven by the defendant. She alleges negligence on the part of the defendant and states that she was permanently injured in the accident.

The complaint alleges that Miller violated a city ordinance in running too close to the street car. It is stated that the little girl was knocked down and one wheel passed over her body. Little difficulty was had in obtaining a jury as the case was not widely known over the county.
The first evidence was introduced this morning. The defense maintains that had the Harris girl herself used reasonable care she would not have been hit by the machine and it was stated in the opening talk to the jury that evidence would be introduced to show that she did not look to the right or left in getting off the car.

The defense stated that the city ordinance was not violated as it is directly contrary to the state law.
The first witness for the plaintiff was David Remler, a chauffeur, who was driving a machine directly behind the Miller auto. He stated that the girl got off the car almost from the center and was not positive as to the position of the auto. He stated that he believed Miller was not running over two or three miles an hour when the accident occurred. He was not positive as to whether Miller was already at the crossing when the car pulled up or not. His wife was in the machine with him and also testified.

People Are Looking For "Buying" News

In days of rising prices and fluctuating values people are more inclined to shop than in ordinary times.

Ordinarily, prudence makes all of us want to buy to the best advantage—with many it is today an actual necessity.

In times like these people are eager advertising readers because they want to know.

It takes little observation to demonstrate that they are newspaper readers.

And it is not only logical to assume that now is the time to advertise in the newspaper, but it is a fact demonstrated by results on every hand.

Daily Republican's Health Department

The Daily Republican as a member of the United Press associations will print twice a week answers to questions on the subject of health, how to preserve it, and disease, how to prevent it. These answers will be made after careful consideration by Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner.

Dr. Hurty has consented to do this because of the immense circulation of the United Press in Indiana. Within the last four years Dr. Hurty was offered a handsome salary by a great metropolitan newspaper to conduct a department of this nature, but he preferred to remain at his post as state health commissioner in Indiana.

Questions regarding disease prevention and ailments—Dr.
Hurty is more interested in the former—will be answered in their order. No questions requiring personal answers or of no general interest will be considered. No names will be printed. Queries may be signed by the name of the locality or by initials.

All questions should be sent directly to the United Press associations, 361/2 West Washington street, Indianapolis. Questions may be sent directly to the Daily Republican if preferred.

aligned under the support of their guns.

The duel started at sunrise on Sunday and continued throughout the day. Towards nightfall, however, the German fire became weakened and the French artillery experts explained that the German guns were being withdrawn, having been used merely to cover the general retreat.

At one period of the artillery duel, I timed 32 bursting shrapnel shells during a single minute indicating the fierceness of the German fire. Several of the houses in Soissons proper were set on fire by bursting shells but there were very few fatalities among the inhabitants owing to the fact that the German fire on the city was mostly shrapnel. The inhabitants had taken refuge in the cellars and were out of harm's way. To this is attributable the fact that there were no serious losses.

The French guns crew were absolutely unaffected by the fire and the infantry, waiting the orders to go forward, were very cheerful. The Turcos (The French Algerian troops) were hard to keep in check. They have an utter disregard of danger and when the orders finally came to charge, drove forward recklessly, their laughter rising over the sound of musketry. Their one ambition seems to be a desire to outstrip the French regulars in the charge.

The French army organization is marvelously compact and efficient. The cavalry, infantry, artillery and supply trains work coolly in close formation, without a hitch or without trace of excitement. The traditional excitable Latin temperament was nowhere in evidence, so far as I could see. The officers were coolly fraternizing with their men, overseeing their food and keeping their ammunition replenished. This was in marked contrast with the brutal methods of the German officers which have been reported from all parts of the fighting line.

The French commissary is simply wonderful. It is maintained very close to the fighting line. Not a single moment is lost in moving food supplies and ammunition as needed. The drivers of the supply trains smoked their cigarettes, read newspapers and sang while awaiting orders to move forward to the front.

My talks with the officers of the French and British forces convinces me that the Germans have sustained a crushing reverse but that they are still far from having been completely defeated. Regardless of the large number of prisoners and the enormous quantities of supplies that have fallen into French and British hands the Germans are retiring in comparatively good order. Their lines generally remain unbroken. Their defeat of course will necessitate the organization of the entire German army and many of the officers with whom I talked expressed the belief that this will take place behind the German frontier.

The German forces were obviously exhausted by their marches which while sensational in the extreme as an offensive movement, left the Germans so exhausted that they had nothing in reserve when the allies assumed the offensive along the lines of battle previously selected by General Joffre and Sir John French. The German army on defense is infinitely inferior to the German army on offense. Every officer with whom I talked agreed to this and this fact is very likely to have a most important result on the ultimate outcome of the war.

At Soissons, after the Germans abandoned their position, I counted 145 used shells about a disabled German gun. This shows the rapidity of the German fire.

Between Meaux and Soissons I passed nine deserted burned auto trucks and their trailers loaded with ammunition that had been exploded and abandoned. The roads were also littered with German small arms and impediments, which showed how precipitate had been the German retreat.

West of Chateau Thierry I saw many of the Paris auto-busses with farm wagons attached as trailers crossing the field gathering up the French and German dead. Peasants have been pressed into service and are reverently burying the dead in long trenches which they have dug. Soldiers detailed for that purpose collect the metal identification tags and their valuables which will be returned to their friends in happier days to come.

The officers are buried in separate trenches and all are marked with crosses. The stench of the putrefying corpses is detectable miles away from the battlefields.

Officers and surgeons who have inspected the bodies of the slain are surprised to find that more than half have been killed by artillery fire indicating that the field guns have far outstripped the rifles as man killers in this war. As a matter of exact fact the German rifle fire has been very poor. The Germans make no pretense of lifting their rifles to their shoulders in the general battles but fire at will from under their arms and waste many of their bullets. They also fire so low that the majority of the French and British wounded are injured below the hips.

The result of the battle of the Marne has erased from French memories the nightmare of 1870. Officers declare that it is now proved that the defeats of that campaign were due to the numerical superiority of the Germans and that France's fighting spirit is still supreme.

An Overburdened Wife.

If the work that women do and the pains they suffer could be measured in figures, what a terrible array they would present! Through girlhood, wifehood and motherhood woman toils on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness which are tell-tale symptoms of organic derangements which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made from roots and herbs—can undoubtedly correct. Women who suffer should not give up hope until they have given it a trial.

ECHOES FROM CIRCLEVILLE

Circleville Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Circleville resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Hiram Whalen, R. R. No. 1, Circleville, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and we always keep them in the house. I had pains in my back that made it hard for me straighten after stooping and my kidneys caused me a great deal of trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the pains and aches and regulated the kidney action."

Investing at Home.

It is interesting to the newspaper man, as he reads his exchanges, to see how sharp the competition is for new manufacturing industries. Cities from far and near tumble over each other with special inducements, the moment they hear that any concern contemplates a move.

Our town should be active in this game, difficult as it is. Meanwhile the fact is worth attention, that many a town while campaigning earnestly for distant concerns, is neglecting chances that originate at home.

There are young men in this place, as there are everywhere, who would be perfectly competent to manage a business proposition, if they had capital. They would like to start a new industry here. Meanwhile money is being sent away, because our people don't know of hopeful chances to invest at home.

The concern from a distance that may be attracted by special inducements, may or may not stay when the inducements expire. The concern backed by home enterprise and capital is rooted in home soil.

To many people, the distant investment looks more attractive. But it might not seem so, if examined on the spot. Money invested at home is under close inspection, which should prevent losses. Wherefore, when our young men want a little capital to start a new enterprise, their claims should have the most careful consideration.

AUSTRIAN ARMY ABOUT CRUSHED

Russian War Office Declares That Opposition in Galicia is Practically Removed

MAKES A FRANK ADMISSION

Says Retreat in East Prussia Was Ordered Sept. 10—Rounding up Crushed Enemy

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—Declaring that the Austrian opposition in Galicia has received a death blow, the Russian general staff, in a statement issued today, frankly admits that a retreat was ordered in East Prussia on Sept. 10. The statement regarding the operations on German territory says:

"On September 10th our air scouts reported the coming of an overwhelming German army, heavily equipped with artillery who were preparing to attack the main body of Russian troops then holding the country under the command of General Rennenkampf. Our position was not strategically strong and orders were given to withdraw to positions previously selected. These are now being held and fighting is in progress. The Russian left wing was attacked by a overwhelming force and was forced to give way, but new positions have now been taken and the German advance is checked everywhere.

"The Austrian military strength is completely crushed. They were retreating in the utmost disorder everywhere. Russian cavalry are pursuing them and harassing them while the Russian artillery has been posted at certain points to cut off the retreat. So precipitate is the Austrian flight that they are abandoning everything. The roads are strewn with rifles and personal equipment thrown away by fleeing Austrians who found that it hampered their flight. Artillery has been mined everywhere and the fact that traces were cut and not unfastened shows that the enemy is completely panic-stricken.

"We are everywhere following up our advantage."

The entire strength of the Russian first line troops was in action today rounding up the completely crushed Austrian army which is endeavoring to rally under the shadow of the fortress of Przemyel and along the San river to a point north of Jaroslavl.

It was officially stated here today that of the 590,000 Austrians who comprise the Austrian first line of troops, 200,000 are already prisoners of war. The entire army of General Dankl has been dispersed and the main armies of General Noritz Von Auffenberg and Archduke Francis Frederick, which have been heavily reinforced from German forces, have suffered greatly.

There is no diminution in the Russian attack. Under the immediate direction of Grand Duke Nicholas the assault is being kept up. Strong Russian columns are being sent down the territory between the San and the Vistula rivers from the North to attack the Austrians on the flank and prevent further German reinforcements reaching them. At the same time, the centre army, commanded by General Rouzky, is driving the main Austrian forces from the vicinity of Crodek.

NOTICE

There will be a congregational meeting at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday morning for the purpose of electing two elders, four deacons and one trustee, whose terms expire September 27th.

This is the first time that any state has taken up the most important of all school subject. Congratulations are pouring in upon the Governor because of this move from eminent men and citizens generally.

The State Board of Health is, of course, the leader in this movement. It is sending circulars to all the health officers in the state directing that they become active and plan the proper proceedings for Disease Prevention Day. They are urged to impress upon the people that sickness and disease brings most of our social troubles and that insanity, which costs the state so dearly, is nothing but disease. Crime is due largely to sickness or defectiveness. Ordinary delinquency and inefficiency are sickness. Pauperism and extreme poverty are sickness. We must lay the ax at the root of sickness in order to get at these evils of society. Building hospitals and seeking for cures will not in ten thousand years relieve the situation. It is prevention of disease, and that only, which can rid us of these social troubles.

It thus appears that the greatest and most important business before the business men today is the business of the public health. If we want to lower taxes we must attend to the public health. If we want to increase our happiness and efficiency we must attend to the public health. The State Board of Health recommends Health officers to organize the school children, the business men and all other citizens of a willing spirit. Each teacher should prepare a lesson for his pupils upon this importance of disease prevention. The schools should join with civic societies in health processions. It is easy to do this, for children may be easily thrused. The trouble is to enthuse the business men in this important business.

Business men should not only contribute liberally, but they should themselves work in the cause. Retail business men should dress their store windows in accordance with the day, to teach a lesson in disease prevention. Druggists should remove their drugs and every cure from their windows and should display only those things which refer to prevention of disease, such as disinfectants, tooth brushes, soap, Etc.

Drygoods men should devote their windows to articles that suggest disease prevention. One window could be a mass of towels of different grades and kinds. Another could be filled with sundries such as hair brushes, tooth brushes, soap Etc. Department stores have an admirable opportunity to make health window displays. In addition to heaps of towels and soap, they can show tin bath tubs, foot tubs, garbage cans and anything suggesting cleanliness and protection or improvement of health.

Every store window should display public health mottoes. They should be carried in every parade. The State Board of Health suggests the following mottoes:

The only good fly is the dead fly.

Health first. Don't spit.

Well kept alleys or Well-kept cemeteries—which?

Disease causes poverty.

Public Health is Public Wealth.

Kill rats. They carry plague.

Kill mosquitoes. They carry malaria.

Kill flies. They carry typhoid.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness.

Don't drug the baby.

Ventilate your bed-room.

Don't use a common drinking cup. Manure piles generate flies. Flies carry disease.

Away with feather dusters.

Bat the rat and swat the fly.

All the time is clean up time.

Where J. B. Meacham Will Become Pastor

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AT MOULTRIE, GEORGIA.

The First Presbyterian church at Moultrie, Georgia, where the Rev. John B. Meacham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here who has resigned, will assume the pastorate Sunday, October 4, gave during the last church year the largest sum per member for all purposes of any Presbyterian church in Georgia. The church will entertain the Synod of Georgia of the Southern Presbyterian church at its annual meeting which begins November 3.

The minutes of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church during the church year ending March 31, 1914 added fifty-seven new members and that the total membership was 175. There are 507 members in the main Sabbath school and branch Sabbath schools. The church supports five missions church supports five mission churches and Sabbath schools.

The gift of the church to foreign missions during the year amounts to $1,585; to home missions, $1,734, making the total of all church benevolences $3,319. The grand total of expenditures of the church for the year was $11,669, which is an average of $66.68 per member, the highest in the Synod of Georgia.

The church furnishes a beautiful home for pastor, who is also supplied with an assistant pastor to help with his work.

talk business.

"When I got there there was a letter awaiting me with a call to this church and they extended the call with the confidence that I was the man they wanted and I should be the pastor of their church, and so, under those circumstances, I made a visit to them and was there last Sunday. When I got the information that there was no prospect of getting a supply here I was a thousand miles away and it was impossible for me to bring a supply here.

"I visited the church and the call has been extended and I have indicated my acceptance. So this morning I want this congregation to concur with me in a request to White-water Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relationship existing between us and I would like for this to be done to take effect on the last Sunday of this month. In order that this may be done, there will have to be a motion made that this congregation join with me in the request for dissolution of pastoral relationship and this request taken to Presbytery, which meets tomorrow evening at Bright, Indiana, where it will be duly taken care of.

"It is the custom, or, at least I have never known of a pastor resigning but what someone was appointed by the congregation to attend Presbytery to represent the congregation in Presbytery in asking for the dissolution of the pastoral relationship that existed. So there are two things to be done.

"1st. That you concur with me in this request for the dissolution of pastoral relationship, and

"2d. The election of some member and officer, an elder is usually chosen to represent the congregation in that court, and so I now ask that this congregation shall unite with me in asking for the dissolution of our relationship as pastor and people to take effect the 27th of this month, and now, if there be a motion that the congregation concur with me in this request, I will entertain the motion."

AT NO POINT IN FRANCE ARE GERMANS DANGEROUS

and are very enthusiastic.

French territory from Nancy south to the Vosges is now reported to be entirely evacuated by the Germans. They have been crowded over the frontier with very heavy loss as they made a determined resistance. According to General Gallieni, the Germans were unable to hold a single one of their fortified positions.

All the German prisoners passing through here are completely exhausted.

The official communication at 3:30 was as follows:

"The Germans have evacuated Amiens, retreating in the direction of Peronne and St. Quentin.

"From Nancy to the Vosges the retreat is general. The French territory in this vicinity is now totally evacuated."

Having saved the bulk of its army by a retreat that at certain portions bordered on a rout the German general staff is now trying to reorganize for a defensive stand so that another offensive weapon can be whipped into shape.

All of the information received here today indicated that the German flight is rapidly slackening speed. It is plainly evacuating all of the Northwest of France and Belgium, preparing for a general concentration in the East either to resume the aggressive, should the allies show evidence that their own rapid movements have handicapped them, or for a defense of them or for a defense of the German empire itself, all along the frontier.

There is no attempt here in Paris today to delude anyone with a belief that, because of the great victory of the battle of the Marne, the war is over. German soil is still intact and it is accepted that there can hardly be a lasting peace that is not signed in Berlin itself. But everyone believes that the great German menace, a feeling that the kaiser's war machine was composed of super-men has been removed. The French have found that they can beat the Germans and this feeling will aid greatly to the success of future operations.

Fighting was in progress all along the line today. The German rear guard is contesting every step of the way. The lines have been closed up and their resistance is reported much stronger than at any time since the retreat began. But it is pointed out that they are still retreating. Their Northern lines of communication are endangered and the pressure on their eastern lines through Luxemburg and the territory south is very great.

MARCHING TOWARD HUNGARIAN PLAINS

Servian Armies Working With Russian General Staff on Plans to Capture Budapest.

THEY ARE NOW IN SLAVONIA

(By United Press.)

Nish, Sept. 14.—The Servian armies which last week occupied Cernin after a brilliant bayonet charge in which 10,000 Austrians were killed or wounded today began a march toward Peterwardein in an effort to open the plains of Hungary.

It is stated here that the Servians are now working in co-operation with the Russian general staff on plans which contemplate the capture of Budapest. The Servians are now in Slavonia in great force. They are reported as being received with great enthusiasm by the natives the large per centage of whom are Slavs. It is intended to capture Peterwardein as soon as possible and establish headquarters there after which the Danube will be crossed and on an advance made directly on Budapest along the lines of the Hungarian state railway.

Meanwhile the Montenegrin-Servian army which has been commissioned with the capture of the Sarejevo, the capital of Bosnia, is within thirty miles of that city. The Austrian garrison is reported in a panic and it is not believed any stubborn resistance will be encountered.

FACULTY PUTS TEAM ON BLINK

Hawkeye's Gridiron Prospects go Glimmering Unless Members Can Make up Conditions

BANNER TOUGH LUCK STORY

Captain Gunderson Underwent Operation Less Than Three Weeks Which Adds to Troubles

(By United Press.)

Iowa, City, Ia., Sept. 14.—The University of Iowa faculty has turned the blue glare on the Hawkeyes' gridiron prospects for 1914. Fifteen promising candidates for this year's eleven, including seven of last year's varsity team, have been put out of the running by their inability to fathom June examinations. Unless they remove their "cons" at special examinations at the opening of school, Iowa will have nothing like the strong team she turned out in 1913.

To add to Coach Hawley's troubles Captain Gunderson of this year's eleven, underwent an operation for appendicitis less than three weeks ago, and will be out of the game this fall. Joe Carberry, another veteran, is suffering from blood poisoning, and probably will not get into the opening contests.

Three veterans, according to the present dope, will be ready for the first workout of the year. They are Quarter-back Gross, a real sensation in 1913; Barren, star tackle, and Parsons, who plays halfback into the opening contests.

Indications are that the Hawkeyes will have the lightest varsity squad in several seasons. Gorrell, a substitute lineman in 1913, will plug a hole in this year's line and there is a small army of backfield candidates but the would-be linemen are an aggregation of featherweights.

HELD TO PAY COURT FINES

The replevin suit brought by Larry B. Harris against Mayor Bebout and Chief Rosencrance was dismissed this morning by the plaintiff in Squire Kratzer's court. The suit was brought to recover possession of a horse and buggy that had been taken on an execution to pay two fines that Harris is alleged to have stayed in police court.

The execution was issued by Mayor Bebout and then Harris brought the replevin proceedings. It is understood that with the dismissal of the replevin suit the case will be dropped for a time. The costs were paid by Harris and a new execution will likely be issued by the mayor.

BICYCLE TIRE IS RECOVERED TODAY

One Stolen From Havens Frazee is Found on Wheel Ridden by Guy Newman, Age 12.

CASE FOR JUVENILE COURT

A bicycle tire stolen from the wheel of Havens Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Frazee, was found today on the bicycle owned by Guy Newman, twelve years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Newman. Suspicion rests on the Newman boy and charges may be preferred in juvenile court. Last week the Newman boy appeared at the Finney bicycle store asking the prices on tires. A few days later he was seen riding the wheel and had practically a new tire on one of the wheels. John Frazee, brother of Havens Frazee, saw the wheel this morning and took it around to Finney where the tire was identified as the one sold to Frazee. The tire was taken from the barn at the Frazee home. As the Newman boy is under age to arrest, the charges may be taken up by the juvenile court officials.
